Valentine's Day Surprises at The Mira Hong Kong From Suite Seduction Sleepovers to Late Sunset Lunch

Images available at: https://bit.ly/lovemira_press

31 January 2022, Hong Kong – The Mira Hong Kong sparks romance with a host of seductive surprise ideas to woo your significant other in the month of love. From swanky suite sleepover with tantalizing kaiseki in-room dining to French-Japanese finesse plated at WHISK, kissable sweet goodies from COCO, Cantonese Romance menu at Cuisine Cuisine served on five days, and tantalizing buffet date at Yamm, even MiraSpa conjures up the magic with luxuriant champagne ritual for two at the VIP Couple's Suites. For those celebrating Valentine's at their cozy homes, The Mira delivers delicious Love Bites – a surf & turf set with heart-shaped Aussie beef sirloin, grilled lobster and mini Bombshell dessert as a surprise!

Valentine's Day Suite Staycation with Kaiseki Delights

Stylish urban retreat in Tsim Sha Tsui lets the playful romantics stage their Valentine's Day surprises at its spacious suites with indulgent roll-in dinner and bubbles. Sway into a seductive staycay with sheer romance and make your loved one swoon over uplifting "Love is in the air" surprise balloon décor. Then tease her or him with a Lovers' Kaiseki Menu for 2 featuring erotic Japanese Clam & Saffron Soup as well as M6 Wagyu with Uni Fried Ric. Complete with a bottle of G.H. Mumm Champagne NV and alluring buffet breakfast on the next day this staycation is a foolproof Cupid's arrow.

Available from 4 - 14 February from HK$2,880 per room per night for stay at Mira Suite 70.

Upgrade options include Mira Suite 80 (HK$200), Mira Suite 100 (HK$400), and Spa Suite (HK$200) which features very own in-room Jacuzzi, steam bath, and spacious vanity area.

Late Sunset Lunch at WHISK

It's an early date for all the fine dining lovers with French-Japanese specials served until sunset at WHISK. Instead of an elaborate omakase dinner this season, one may impress their significant other with no less seductive Japanese ingredients crafted into creative French dishes by Chef Oliver Li. Think sake-steamed Rikuzentakata Oyster, freshly flown in Suzuki Seabass, as well as tender Guinea Fowl and silky Daikon Veloute. Best part: late lunch is served until 6pm and a tempting price comparing to the regular lunch service hours saving you some budget for extra treats such as flowers.

Available on 14 February, 2:45pm – 6pm.

HK$798 for a 5-course menu for 2 Guests (instead of HK$460 per person)

5/F, The Mira Hong Kong, Mira Place, 118 - 130 Nathan Road, Tsim Sha Tsui

Booking enquiries: 2315 5999 or dining@themirahotel.com

Tickets available at: www.mira-eshop.com/miracle-love

Cantonese Romance at Cuisine Cuisine

Over at Michelin-recommended Chinese eatery of The Mira, Chef Edwin Tang presents a 7-course menu that will impress even the fussiest of lovebirds. Opening with a succulent Chilled Hokkaido scallop with yellow lantern chilli sauce the menu hits the spot with a Double-boiled Sea Conch Soup with aromatic cordyceps flowers and impressive Kuruma prawn with fragrant rose sauce – pairing perfectly with the glass of rosé bubbly included. Rich and indulgent dishes such as Braised whole abalone with Pan-fried Foie Gras are balanced with tender Poached pea sprouts with lily bulbs, goji and fungus so that you can finish off with a duet of desserts.

Available on 10 – 14 February, 11:30am – 2:30pm.

HK$2,488 for 7 courses for 2 Guests with 2 glasses of G.H. Mumm Grand Cordon Rosé
Add HK$350 per person for wine pairing
